28 February 2006

Dear Mrs Beckett

Thank you for your letter of 9 February, which was received here on 21 February. This followed our conversation about the Additional Costs Allowance (ACA) and requirements of the Green Book and other matters.

... appreciate how very busy you are.

I am happy to accept your letter as notification of the need to engage a joiner and plumber to replace your sitting room floor. On the basis that this is a necessary repair, my Department does not need any further documentation at this stage. Receipts will be needed in the usual way when you claim reimbursement. As this could be a significant sum, should you wish to submit receipts as the work progresses you can do so. This may help if the work straddles this financial year and next.

Areas To be Measured

Living Room,

Based on your discussions with our sales consultant [Redacted] the cost will be in the region of £680. However, our Home Consultant will call on <date to be arranged> to confirm the exact size and your requirements, enabling us to quote you an exact price.

Because good underlay and the correct ancillaries are vital in helping to maximise the life of your carpet, and maintain its good looks, our Home Consultant will conduct a free inspection of your existing underlay and ancillaries, (and discuss our stain/accident warranties) during the visit. Please do take the opportunity to discuss these matters with him/her.

Please send your Home Consultant to take exact measurements and provide me with an exact quotation.
