

Liverpool v Atlético Madrid

Kick-off: 7.45pm

Television: ITV1

Venue: Anfield

Referee: Martin Hansson (Sweden)

Key clash

Jamie Carragher v Sergio Agüero

● Carragher has come off best in tussles with just about every top striker he has encountered in the Champions League, but Agüero will pose a different kind of test. The Argentina forward, 20, is quick, strong and skilful, so much so that Atlético's fans claim not to be missing Fernando Torres

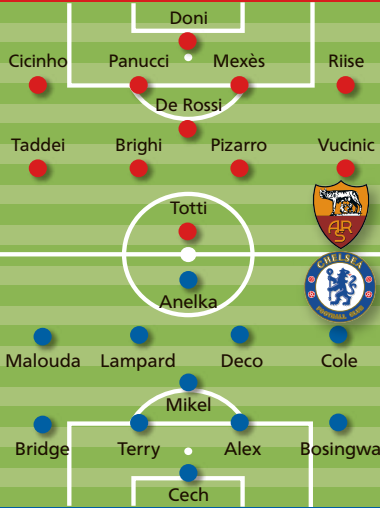

Liverpool (possible; 4-2-3-1)

Atlético Madrid (possible; 4-4-2)

Roma (possible; 4-1-4-1)

Chelsea (possible; 4-1-4-1)

Roma v Chelsea

Kick-off: 7.45pm

Television: ITV4

Venue: Olympic Stadium

Referee: Luis Medina Cantalejo (Spain)

Key clash

Philippe Mexès v Nicolas Anelka

● Chelsea need a win to make sure of their place in the next round with two group matches remaining and after scoring eight goals without reply in their past two league matches will be confident of achieving it. Anelka has provided four of them and should have too much pace for his French compatriot

Words Oliver Kay and Matt Hughes