

The Italian job: what Il Giornale thinks of us

Politics

Britain Gordon Brown has suffered a collapse; the Labour model is in crisis
Italy Since the G8 summit, Italy's authority has grown

Economy

Britain The City goes bust and the banks fail
Italy The State has not had to bail out a single bank

Milan has fashion,
Savile Row is a bazaar

Fashion

Britain The gentleman tailors of Savile Row? Little more than a bazaar now
Italy 'Made in Italy' is the world's leading brand

Tourism

Britain Not even the "low-cost" pound attracts tourists
Italy The whole world loves Italy (and that includes the British)

Industry

Britain None of the great names is British any more
Italy The Marchionne Model: Fiat conquers the world

Crime

Britain The most violent nation in Europe
Italy Taking a hard line pays dividends in falling crime rates

Media

Britain Scandal after scandal has undermined its credibility
Italy Has been able to steer clear of scandal

Football

Britain The inventors of the game now pin their hopes on an Italian
Italy From the mud to the stars: now the champions of the world

All great British cars are history

The Duomo in Florence is one of the attractions of Italy for tourists, along with sun and wine

Italy has World Cup winners and the England manager

