■ The tables on this page include owners and players who appear in the 2009 Rich List. The presence of four British-based billionaires and several multi-millionaires among the owners of clubs in the Barclays Premier League helps explain why it is the richest football league in the world. There are no fewer than 30 present and past Premier League players in the young Rich List.

■ The wealth can be seen cascading down through the leagues. Indeed, the richest club is not in the Premier League at all. Queens Park Rangers, in west London, boasts more than £12 billion between its key owners, Lakshmi Mittal, Bernie Ecclestone and Flavio Briatore.
